

Through this document, in my capacity as author or owner of the intellectual property rights of the work I attach, I authorize Universidad de los Andes to use in all its forms the patrimonial rights of reproduction, public communication, transformation and distribution (rent, public loan and import) that correspond to me as creator or owner of the work that is the object of this document.

The present authorization is given without restriction of time or territory and free of charge. I understand that I can request the Universidad de los Andes to withdraw my work at any time from both the repositories and the catalog if I so choose.

This authorization is granted in a non-exclusive manner, and it does not imply transfer of my economic rights in favor of the University, so I can use and exploit the work in the way I consider best. This authorization does not imply the transfer of moral rights and the Universidad de los Andes will recognize them and ensure respect for them.

This authorization is extended not only to the faculties and rights of use on the work in format or material support, but also for electronic format, and in general for any known or unknown format. I declare that the work that is the object of this authorization is original and I made it without violating or usurping the rights of third-party authors, therefore, the work is of my exclusive authorship or I have ownership over it.

In case of any claim or action by a third party regarding the copyright on the work in question I will assume all responsibility, and will defend the rights here authorized for all purposes the University acts as a third party in good faith.
